Introduction

The Florida Department of Health in Martin County continues to strive for excellence, health equity, and improving the overall wellbeing and health of its residents. To that end, this report will reflect the Department of Health's engagement and collaboration with community partners and the implementation of the strategies and activities previously developed. As new data becomes available and additional community and health needs develop, the Florida Department of Health in Martin County and the Health Advisory Council discuss opportunities to improve or adjust the Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP) as needed. While it is understood that the CHIP is a community-owned and driven plan, the strategies and actions being implemented in the community to produce positive change in overall health for residents would not be possible without the cooperation, collaboration, and commitment from the engaged community partners. These partners include organizations from health and human services, school district, city government, local state colleges, sheriff's department, police department, fire rescue department and faith-based organizations (see Appendix A for a full list of partners). Since the inception of the CHIP, the list of community partners and the various sectors represented has continued to expand.

Overview of the Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP)

The Florida Department of Health in Martin County, with the help of the Health Council of Southeast Florida (HCSEF), engaged a group of community partners and stakeholders in the Mobilizing for Action through Planning and Partnerships (MAPP) in January 2015. The Health Advisory Council consists of various community stakeholders representing different sectors, populations and programs in Martin County that bring their experience, knowledge and expertise to the table. This process leads to the development of the 2015 Community Health Assessment (CHA) and the 2016-2020 Martin County Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP).

Using the MAPP model, the Community Health Advisory Council reviewed and discussed primary and secondary data through four assessments:

- Community Health System Assessment
- Community Themes and Strengths Assessment
- Local Public Health System Assessment
- Forces of Change Assessment

HCSEF facilitated these assessments and presented the findings to the Health Advisory Council, who discussed them in detail before participating in a multi-voting activity to identify the top priority areas. The group agreed on the three priority areas listed below.

- Education and Awareness of Existing Health and Human Services
- School Health
- Obesity

The Health Advisory Council identified the importance of a health equity and culturally competent lens.

The planning team tracks the progress and implementation of the plan by requesting updated data from partners, when appropriate and available, on a biannual basis. These updates include but are not limited to: key action steps for specific strategies, partners, the status of effort, and results. HCSEF presents the updated data to the Community Health Advisory Council and facilitates conversation around each strategic area to reassess the progress and identify if revisions are needed. This process is done through open dialogue with engaged members of the Advisory Council. The planning team considers suggestions and recommendations to reassess and revise the plan. When there is a consensus to revise part of the plan, the planning team will do extensive research and provide recommendations to the Advisory Council. The CHIP is revised with the agreement from the majority of the Advisory Council.

STRATEGIC ISSUE AREA	GOAL
Education and Awareness of Existing Health and Human Services	Increase the community's awareness of existing health and human services in Martin County
School Health	Improve the health of Martin County students
Obesity	Reduce the rate of obesity among Martin County residents

Summary of CHIP Annual Review Meetings

The Martin County Community Health Advisory Council met on May 21, 2019 and September 9, 2019 at the Department of Health in Martin County.

At the May meeting, a member of the Opioid Task Force in Martin County presented on the task force's initiatives. With an increase in the presence of opioids and the apparent impact on the county, members of the advisory council were interested in a presentation by the task force. They were specifically interested in the resources available to address the growing epidemic. Additionally, a representative from Florida Department of Health - Martin County presented on the Hepatitis A Awareness Campaign. The county had seen a significant increase in Hepatitis A cases and the information shared helped to inform measures being taken to increase awareness about the disease as well as education the stakeholders on preventative measures, including the availability of the Hepatitis vaccination.

Priority Area Chairs then provided updates on activities since the last meeting. HCSEF also reviewed progress made on the objectives. Following these updates, the group reviewed the goals, objectives, strategies and activities of each priority area to determine if there was a need for any revisions. Additionally, a representative from 2-1-1 Palm Beach/Treasure Coast presented data the Advisory Council had requested at the previous meeting, including: demographics of residents utilizing 2-1-1 services and the type of referrals that 2-1-1 is making.

In April 2019, HCSEF facilitated a series of focus groups to re-engage the community, glean their insights about progress made toward current health priorities, and assess the need for updated health priorities. HCSEF presented the results from the focus groups at the May 2019 meeting.

HCSEF announced an updated Community Health Assessment (CHA) and Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP) would be released in summer 2019.

The purpose of the September meeting was to wrap-up the current CHIP process/begin to transition the Advisory Council to plan for the beginning of the next CHA/CHIP 'cycle.' Priority Area Chairs provided updates on activities that occurred since the last meeting. HCSEF also reviewed the progress made on the objectives. HCSEF then facilitated a discussion where the group reflected on successes of the process over the past four years as well as opportunities for improvement for the next cycle. HCSEF then provided an overview of the Mobilizing for Action through Planning and Partnerships (MAPP) process that would continue to guide the process.

Strategic Issue Area #1: Awareness and Education of Existing Health and Human Services

During the Martin County Community Health Assessment, a common theme among council members was the lack of awareness of services as a barrier to accessing care. From early on, the members acknowledged the importance of individuals knowing about the resources and services that are available in Martin County to address their needs and understanding how to access those resources. To that end, the group chose increasing awareness and education of existing health and human services as a priority area. Specifically, the group decided to focus their efforts on promoting 211 Palm Beach/Treasure Coast as the gateway to accessing health and human services in the county. 211 is a community helpline and crisis hotline that provides suicide prevention, crisis intervention, information, assessment, and referral to community services for people of all ages. Increasing residents' knowledge of available resources will improve the navigation of health and human services and improve access to services. Reducing these barriers will contribute to the improvement of overall health.

Goal: Use a collaborative community approach to promote and foster an environment of community awareness in Martin County.

Strategy 1: Promote consistent messaging on 211 Palm Beach/ Treasure Coast Help Line serving as the community's gateway and 'One Door' to access health and human services through the 'Help Starts Here at 211' campaign.

Strategy 2: Engage community agencies and stakeholders to serve as ambassadors and promote the 211 Help Line in Martin County.

Key Partners: 211 Palm Beach/Treasure Coast, Children's Services Council of Martin County, Florida Community Health Centers, Inc., Florida Department of Health in Martin County, House of Hope, Helping People Succeed, Indian River State College, Kane Center Council on Aging of Martin County, Martin County Board of County Commissioner's Health and Human Services, Martin Health System, New Horizons of the Treasure Coast, Stuart Police Department, Treasure Coast Hospice, Visiting Nurse Association of Florida, Inc., YMCA of the Treasure Coast, Boys and Girls Club of Martin County, CareerSource Research Coast, Floridians Fighting Falls, Volunteers in Medicine, Junior League of Martin County, Boy Scouts of America, Kiwanis Club of Stuart, University of Florida IFAS – Family Nutrition Program, United Way of Martin County

Why this is important to our community:

One of the main barriers to improving community-wide health outcomes is the lack of awareness and knowledge of existing health services. The lack of knowledge of existing health and human services leads to the underutilization of services, resulting in many unmet health and social needs that lead to poor health outcomes for community members.

-  = Reached or surpassed objective target

Strategic Issue Area #2: School Health

The Martin County Community Health Advisory Council established school health as a priority to improve the lives of children and adolescents by providing appropriate and quality health services to meet their needs in the school setting. Martin County's School Health Services Program, like the other counties in the state, provides basic school services to the students in public schools. These services include: health appraisals; nursing assessments; child-specific training; preventative dental screenings and services; vision, hearing, scoliosis, and growth and development screenings; health counseling; referral and follow-up of suspected or confirmed health problems; first aid and emergency health services; assistance with medication administration; and health care procedures for students with chronic or acute health conditions. To meet the needs of the students in public schools, the Health Advisory Council determined the goals and strategies listed below to improve these basic school services to students.

Goal: Create a community that invests in the health of Martin County children and adolescents.

Strategy 1: Promote a community-wide campaign to increase the awareness of school health to community members and stakeholders (e.g. legislators).

Goal: Create a school community where Martin County students live healthy.

Strategy 1: Increase funding to the Florida Department of Health in Martin County to increase the number of school health nurses in Martin County Public Schools.

Strategy 2: Increase the level of training/licensure of Martin County public school health assistants requiring a minimum of a certified nurse aid licensure.

Strategy 3: Create a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) agreement with for-profit and non-profit agencies to provide support of school staff positions, including: Registered Nurse as a School District Health Liaison, Community Oral Health Development Specialist, and Licensed Social Worker.

Key Partners: Florida Department of Health in Martin County, Martin County School District, Martin County School Board

Why this is important to our community:

There were 18,971 students enrolled in pre-kindergarten through 12th grade in Martin County during the 2017-18 school year. Although the number of students enrolled has remained steady, the total number of reported student health conditions has increased significantly in the last few years. In SY 2014-15, there were 7,813 reported student health conditions; in SY 2015-16 there were 9,121; in SY 2016-17 there were 11,192; and in SY 2017-18 there were 13,013.¹ School health services are important to ensure the children in Martin County are healthy.

Strategic Issue Area #3: Obesity

The Health Advisory Council identified obesity as a strategic issue area as it is well-known that individuals who are overweight or obese are more at risk for developing chronic diseases. It is unhealthy for children as they grow and develop for a myriad of reasons – physically, socially and emotionally. Children with obesity tend to get bullied and teased more than their normal weight peers, and are more likely to suffer from social isolation, depression, and lower self-esteem.² These are strong precursors for mental health struggles that individuals may face as children, teenagers and adults. The rate of children who are overweight or obese in Martin County has been on the rise over the last few years.

The rates of adults who are overweight, obese or sedentary has been increasing as well. This is a serious concern because of its association with poorer mental health outcomes (as previously discussed), reduced quality of life, and the leading causes of death in the U.S. and worldwide, including but not limited to, diabetes, heart disease, stroke and some kinds of cancer.³

Goal: Create a community context where Martin County residents can attain and maintain a healthy weight by increasing access to healthy foods and physical activity opportunities.

Strategy 1: Promote consistent information/materials to Martin County children and parents on healthy lifestyle choices through education and outreach using culturally appropriate methods.

Key Partners: Florida Department of Health in Martin County, United Way, Martin Health System, Children's Services Council of Martin County, City of Stuart Department of Parks and Recreation, YMCA of the Treasure Coast, Boys and Girls Club of Martin County, Nutritious Lifestyles, Healthy Start Coalition of Martin County, Floridians Fighting Falls, UF-IFAS Family Nutrition Program.

Why this is important to our community:
Individuals who are overweight or obese face considerably higher risk of developing chronic diseases and experiencing shorter life expectancies. The CHIP encourages healthy lifestyles to reduce obesity rates, thus reducing the risk for various chronic diseases.

Revisions

Given the Martin County CHIP is in its final year of implementation, the group opted to not make any significant revisions to the plan but acknowledged that there are several areas for improvement. Instead, the group spent time talking about the successes of the CHIP over the past few years and opportunities for improvement. The group also discussed opportunities for improvement for the next cycle, which included identifying stakeholders that have not been engaged in the process as well as broader community engagement. There was a rich discussion about various strategies and approaches that may be effective in achieving these goals.

Accomplishments

Goal	Objective	Accomplishment
Use a collaborative community approach to promote and foster an environment of community awareness in Martin County.	By 2020, 211 Palm Beach/Treasure Coast will receive a 10% increase in the number of calls, referrals and database visits received by Martin County residents.	There was an increase in calls, texts and emails, chats, database/mobile app visits and referrals.
	By 2020, increase the number of partners serving Martin County residents of 211 Palm Beach/Treasure Coast by at least 10.	As of February 2020, 2-1-1 Palm Beach/Treasure Coast has 100 affiliate agreements.
How it's important for our community: An increase in accessing 211 Palm Beach/Treasure Coast services is important because it means more residents are getting help and are learning about services offered. The Advisory Council chose 211 as the community resource to focus on for this priority area as it contains information on most of the other resources in Martin County and can therefore refer residents to these. An increase in affiliation agreements increases the number of resources listed in the 211 databases, which will help Martin County residents' access resources.
Create a community that invests in the health of Martin County children and adolescents.	By 2020, decrease the school nurse to student ratio from 1: 2,441 to 1: 1,800 in Martin County Public Schools.	The school nurse to student ratio in SY 2018-19 was 1:1,862.
	Require at least a certified nurse aid licensure for school health assistants.	The requirement for increased school health assistant educational requirements will be in place as new staff is hired. The Martin County School District is also partnering with Indian River State College to provide Certified Nursing Assistant training to health aides in the district.
How it's important for our community: Decreasing the nurse to student ratio allows school nurses to spend time educating students and treating them for their health conditions. This accomplishment allows various chronic diseases to be addressed and education provided to school-aged children in Martin County about conditions including, but not limited to: allergies (threatening and non-life threatening), asthma, diabetes, kidney disease, attention deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), heart disease and seizure disorders. Increasing the licensure for school health assistants ensures children are receiving quality health services.
Create a community context where Martin County residents can attain and maintain a healthy weight by increasing access to healthy foods and physical activity opportunities.	By 2020, decrease the percentage of youth who are overweight or obese in Martin County by 2.0%.	There were 169 Healthiest Weight programs with 3,937 participants in 2019. Programs include cooking classes, health and wellness activities, presentations, and more. Audiences were diverse, including children, families, and parents.
	By 2020, decrease the percentage of adults who are overweight or obese in Martin County by 2.0%.

How it's important for our community: With obesity rates rising in Martin County, educating residents on how to attain and maintain a healthy weight and creating environment that facilitates this is critical. Increasing access to healthy foods, nutrition education and physical activity opportunities through Healthiest Weight Programs and similar programs will help residents reinforce healthy behaviors and attain and maintain a healthy weight.

Conclusion

The Martin County CHIP has been embraced by the community and a myriad of community stakeholders and health and human service providers as the blueprint for improving the health and wellbeing of all residents in Martin County. While the focus of collaborative efforts is on the three chosen strategic issue areas, the Health Advisory Council understands that as the community evolves, so will the various needs. The CHIP serves as an evolving document that is malleable to the demands of community residents, as well as the feasibility and sustainability of health and human service supports.

The Florida Department of Health - Martin County and Health Council of Southeast Florida will engage the Health Advisory Council to be a part of the Community Health Assessment (CHA) process, which will begin late 2019. The team will present the goals, objectives, strategies, and activities identified in this Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP) to those involved with the development of the CHA to ensure the CHA/CHIP is a continuous cycle.

The Opioid Crisis Presentation	Deborah Dreher from New Horizons of the Treasure Coast and Okeechobee provided a presentation on the Treasure Coast Opioid Epidemic and Opioid Task Force. D. Dreher provided an overview of the origin of the opioid epidemic in Florida, steps to take when a family member is challenged with opioid dependence, and steps to take during an opioid overdose. To address this epidemic, the Treasure Coast Opioid Task Force was formed in 2017 by New Horizons, the St. Lucie Department of Health and the St. Lucie Sheriff's Department. All Treasure Coast police departments, treatment providers, hospitals and emergency medical technicians (EMT) and fire rescue were invited to be on the task force. The task force is broken into five sub-committees which includes: law enforcement and first responders; healthcare and risk reduction; education, awareness and prevention; and treatment and data. The accomplishments of the task force include: training professionals and the community, hosting a medicine assistance recovery anonymous (MARA) group, Narcan distribution, and developing a warm hand-off system in partnership with Cleveland Clinic. Through state funding from the Florida Alcohol and Drug Abuse Association (FADAA), non-profits such as New Horizons and Treasure Coast Community Hospital receive Narcan to distribute to the community at no cost. To receive Narcan from New Horizons, community residents can visit 4500 W. Midway Rd. and they will be given two boxes of Narcan and a brief training on how to use it.
